(I HEAN BEVERLY) WHY DIDNT YOU GO BACK THERE AND HAVE SOME FUN LIKE WE DID YOU A-----E. THOSE 5-MINUTE KISSES ~~WERE~~ WERE SOMETHING, WHAT THE H---L HELD YOU BACK ANYWAY, BEVERLY WAS WAITING FOR YOU, SHE ASKED ME FRIDAY NIGHT IF YOU WAS AFRAID OF HER. I TOLD HER YOU WAS. WE SURE HAD A

BAD TIME FRIDAY NIGHT, BUT SOMEHOW IT WAS FUN. JOHN REALLY THOUGHT HE WAS GOING PLACES, THE DUMB A---. I GUESS TED AND I (OH)

KNOWS HOW TO GET THE WOMENS. HOPE YOU DONT GET MAD AT ME FOR SAYING THEM THINGS ABOUT YOU JACK, BUT YOUR A GOOD KID AND I ~~DONT~~ KNOW YOUR NOT SORE. I REMEMBER LAST SUNDAY WHEN WE WENT TO THE BEACH WE SURE HAD A LOT OF FUN DIDNT WE, RIDING THOSE WAVES IT WOULD HAVE TURNED OUT TO BE A PERFECT DAY IF WE

DIDNT GET A FLAT ON THE WAY HOME. BUT WE WELL BE GOING TO THE BEACH THIS SUMMER TOGETHER, AND THE REST OF THE BOYS, AND HAVE A LOT MORE FUN RIDING WAVES AND LOOKING AT THE GIRL, EVERYTIME I THINK ABOUT JOHN AND THE GRAB I START LAUGHING TO MY-SELF. I THINK HER NUTS DONT YOU, IN CASE HE TALKS IT, HERES WHAT IVE GOT TO SAY FOR HIM, GO TO HEEL JOHN. WELL SURE I AM RUNNING OUT OF WORDS, BUT I GUESS I HAVE TO FINNISH THIS PAGE TO SATISFY YOU. WHAT SAY WE BOYS HAVE A NICE BIG BEACH PARTY ONE OF THESE NIGHT AT THE BEACH WITH SOME WOMEN, IF THERE ARE ANY WALKING AROUND THE PARK LIKE LENA IN THE STORY YOU HAD. WELL IF WE DONT GET ANY GIRLS WELL JUST HAVE TO GO BY OURSELVES I GUESS IF ITS UP TO YOU AND THE BOYS, IM ALWAYS WILLING. YOU JACK ANYTIME I WONDER IF I WILL EVER FILL THIS PAGE UP, I'M JUST WRITING ANY DAM THING THAT COMES ALONG IN MY MIND, AS YOU CAN SEE FOR YOURSELF, I SURE HOPE YOUR MOTHER OR SOME OTHER LADY OR ~~GUYS~~ BECAUSE IT SURE WONT MAKE ANY SENCE TO THEM, I SEE YOU AND TED ARE WRITING ALWAYS AND IM JUST SITTING AND DONT KNOW WHAT TO WRITE, AND SAM HIBU SLEEPING LIKE A TIRED DOG, HE MUST OF HAD A BAD TIME LAST NIGHT. I SURE BEGN TO WRITE SMALL ALL OF A SUDDEN, HOPE YOU ARE ABLE TO READ IT. AFTER ALL THAT WORK AND THINKING GIVES ME A HEAD-ACHE. I SURE WISHED I COULD GO TO THE DEMON BUT BECAUSE OF MY PAGE OR HE DOESNT THINK I AM FROM SANTA ANA HE DOESNT SEEM TO GIVE ME MY CARD, I SIGNED UP LAST YEAR REMEMBER WHEN WE CAME HOME FROM THAT RIVERSIDE GAME. I WENT THERE NOT LONG AGO AND HE SAID IT WASNT THERE, I DONT KNOW WHAT TO DO, WHY DONT ~~WASH~~ YOU ASK HIM ABOUT YOUR PAGE AND SO ON, IM AN AMERICAN YOU KNOW. BUT OH WELL WHO CARES BUT I STILL LIKE TO GO. THIS PART HERE DONT MAKE ANY SENCE, AT THE RATE IM GO I STILL GOT A LOT TO WRITE TO FILL THE PAGE, AND HEEL IM RUNNING OUT OF WORD, IVE GOT 583 WORDS SO FAR BUT THAT IS NOT ENOUGH. YOU AND I DIDNT HAVE MUCH FUN LAST YEAR, DID WE, BUT I DIDNT KNOW YOU SO MUCH I GUESS. IM OOHING BACK TO THE GIRLS FROM COMPTON AGAIN, AT THE GAME IN THE WAY DID YOU MOVE OVER AFTER WE HAD OUR ARMS AROUND THEM, YOU MOVED OVER AND TO BLOW A KISS, YOU SHOULD BE ASHAMED OF YOURSELF JACK. SINCE WE ARE IN HURRY I HAVE TO WRITE BIG IF THAT O.K. WITH YOU. I HOPE WE GO TO THE BEACH THIS SUMMER TOGETHER. AND I WISH YOU ALL THE LUCK IN THE WORLD, AND ALSO HAPPINESS. YOU SURE NEED IT WITH THE WOMENS SACK. I GUESS I WONT USE UP THE WHOLE PAGE AFTER ALL. SO ILL SIGN MY NAME TWICE.

Miss Josephine Arnoldy is retiring after many years of faithful service in Santa Ana High School. It is with sincere regret that we bid her farewell, for she has been an ideal teacher in every way. She has made Latin a living language and has given her students a true perception of our cultural heritage. Her keen wit and matchless charm have endeared her to all who know her.

Robert S. Farrar

Mr. Robert S. Farrar is the new administrative head of the high school. His executive ability has manifested itself during this past year, and under his competent leadership we are looking toward a bright future.

To Miss Arnoldy and to Mr. Farrar, in appreciation of years past and in anticipation of years to come, we respectfully dedicate this yearbook.

OUR MEN

Our men are more than names on walls—
Lost legions of forgotten guys;
We pay them tribute with fond eyes
That brim with courage each recalls.

Though lately rang sad bugle calls,
We know that valor never dies;
Our men are more than names on walls—
Lost legions of forgotten guys.

And when the anguished moment falls,
Remember Freedom's flag still flies,
And fiercely proud our hearts should rise
And shout through time's forgetful halls,
"Our men are more than names on walls!"

SENIORS

Versatility is the word for the seniors of 1947. They came into SASHS under the black cloud of war. Their freshman home-work was done behind blackout curtains, but they carried on with zest through all the war drives, and sacrifices; and now they are graduating into the sunshine of peace.

It is a peace they have had a goodly share in making. So the class of '47, molded by the rigors of its time, has developed teamwork with sturdy and capable student leaders. It has artists and actors, poets and playwrights, modellers and musicians. It even has down-to-earth politicians and journalists. The football and basketball teams have provided the high school with breathtaking clashes. These and other sports have been important morale builders in senior life. Also there have been gayer frolics, such as the Harvest Ball, and the Co-ed dance, both well planned and long to be remembered.

In every line of activity these seniors of '47 have met the tests, contributing their own wholesome bit to SASHS history and tradition. This versatility has shaped them for broader fields ahead. It's been snug behind the doors of Santa Ana High School; now it steps out to meet the World, with the good wishes of all.

JUNIORS

Whether on the field of athletic competition, or in the halls of student government, the Juniors are training themselves as the future leaders of their school, as well as of their country. Individual members of the class of '48 are giving serious thought to the mission they are to fulfill in life.

The Juniors have wholeheartedly participated in school activities. They were represented in the mid-year play, in various sports, in the choir, in other school affairs such as the Harvest Ball, the Student Body Picnic, the Co-ed dance, and assemblies. The most outstanding social event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom, was well attended by the Juniors as hosts to the outgoing Seniors. The class of '48 stands ready for its final year in high school, anticipating the events that the future holds in store.

Jack —

I'll try to write all ~~that~~ ^{that} I can think of ~ Well to start with we've been buddies for a long time and have had lots of fun together doing every thing or trying to do ~~everything~~ everything we could. You said you've never necked up at lemon heights up don't know what you missing boy that place is a ~~recess~~ for necking. Say when are we going to get a girl (I know, when we get some money and a car so we can afford it) by god I forgot about you dancing at de mology, but you ought to dance with ~~so~~ with some girl you don't know so you can get to know her and I can do it too and then we can go on the double-date ~~your~~ mentioned a while back and have a hellava good time. I hope we get varsity letter next year in track for you and swimming then we can wear levis and white shirt and socks we'd really see the sports (mello-joe so we can have all kinds of fun going to show, J.A. Pile and every place doing anything we want with certain limits of course (not like John) Well I hope I can finish this page. Hope we have lots of fun together this summer and next year because we have been having lots of fun even since we known you in school well I guess I'll have to stop ~~to~~ now because I can't think of much more to say right now. But have we been a ~~big~~ swell buddy. Lots of luck next ~~year~~ in all the solids you're taking, and in track hope you get a varsity letter in track maybe "Pinkie" will give in.

Yours friend (for a long time)

SOPHOMORES

This year's sophomore class was one of the largest classes in the history of Santa Ana High School.

The new Sammies and Sallies showed their school spirit by turning out for the games of the year and giving their whole-hearted cheers to support their teams. Members of the class participated actively in varsity football and other sports.

The school band and orchestra had in their midst many sophomores who showed promising musical talents, and various vocal groups of the school claimed sophomores as their members, as did other interest clubs. The class of '49 was also represented on the staffs of the Ariel and Generator, as well as in student government.

Bright aspects appear for the next two years of this active class which has already proved its own worth.

ROBERT S. FARRAR
Principal

Conducting all official school business and supervising all student activity were the capable school administrators. Heading the executive list was former principal, Lynn H. Crawford, who took over the reins as superintendent of schools in Santa Ana. Mr. Robert S. Farrar, high school principal, has the responsibility of coordinating and supervising the entire school program. Mr. John E. Johnson, formerly of the United States Navy, served not only as vice-principal, but also handled the difficult job of guiding the three student body government organizations: the Board of Control, the Self-Government Committee and the Student Relations Committee. Mr. Guy M. Harvey, who served with the Army, held the post of Registrar, and served as adviser to the Coteriens. Mrs. Mirrie Bouchee served as general social adviser to all school organizations, and handled public relations and publicity for the school. Miss Helen Kirkland, girls' vice-principal, has had the responsible duties of arranging scholarship data and advising the Honor Society. Completing the impressive list of school dignitaries is Mr. William T. Elliott, business manager for the entire school, who also directs the Usherettes in their activities, and serves as an Ariel adviser.

FACULTY

Strengthened by the addition of several new members, the faculty turned in a superb record of achievement for this year's school term. Helping the faltering student over the barriers of education and keeping the rapid scholar busy required the endless attention of every teacher, and these trying duties were fulfilled with an efficiency seldom before attained. Every department had a well-rounded staff of highly informed instructors who made each student feel that the instructor had a personal interest in him, and was trying to help him achieve success in his school work. Not only did they work well with the students, but the cooperative spirit existing among the teachers themselves made the goal of success obtainable. From the shops to the language classrooms the watchword was "work," and work they did in bringing the school out of the jumble of war-time abnormalcies to a peacetime running order. The way in which they made this transformation was truly marvelous and speaks for itself in testimony of the high caliber of the teaching staff.

STUDENT ADMINISTRATION

With Student Body President Curtis Crawford at its head, the first Board of Control sailed to a smooth start. Meeting once a week with Mr. John Johnson, they have carried out all the yearly traditions. The semester started out with the selling of Student Body cards and closed with the outstanding football banquet honoring the football team. The board also sponsored the annual Color Day, with its Kangaroo Court, and presented the Memorial Plaque to the Student Body at a very impressive assembly honoring those who died in the last war.

Bob Hougland, Student Body President for the second semester, and his new Board of Control took over the duties with capable hands. Under his leadership, plans were started for an annual convention of all the Student Body officers of the schools in the Sunset League. This board sponsored the Student Body Picnic at Orange Park and the Spring Sports Banquet which paid tribute to the Saint teams.

SELF GOVERNMENT

The Self-Government Committee is composed of five members, two boys and two girls elected each semester, and a chairman who is appointed by the Student Body President. Their adviser is Mr. John Johnson.

This committee serves as a student court, trying those who are referred to it by the Student Relations Committee for repeated infractions of rules. In true democratic spirit the individual cases are heard and the circumstances considered. In major offenses, the Self-Government Committee may recommend that demerits be given. In minor cases, usually a clarification of the school regulations is sufficient to insure good conduct.

The job of the Self-Government Committee is a difficult one, and under the leadership of Chairman Bob Cole this year's committee did their work well.

STUDENT RELATIONS

Essential to our school order is the Student Relations Committee, consisting of six seniors, five juniors, four sophomores, led by the two outstanding chairmen, Priscilla Christ and Mary Jo Coombs and the able adviser, Mr. John Johnson.

With campus clean-up as the goal, an ambitious advertising campaign was carried on to keep all Sammies and Sallies on their toes. There were assembly programs, posters in all the halls, special little jingles in each class room and write ups in the Generator and the Daily Bulletin. Another job in this line was the patrolling of the halls, bike racks, and cars during every period. The members of the group donated their study hall periods to this duty.

In addition to its other duties this committee handled the goalpost decorations at the football games and the noon management of the hut. For their hard work they have the privilege of belonging to Coterien and Coterienne and of participating in the annual Student Officer Ditch Day.

COMMISSIONERS

Starting with the sophomore tea and ending with the Co-ed dance, the Girls' League has had a highly successful year.

Under the leadership of the competent advisers, Miss Mary Bissel and Mrs. Nell Fay, the Girls' League has sponsored three assemblies, trimmed the annual Christmas tree in the foyer, and sent holly corsages to the faculty.

Money-raising stunts included the sale of pom poms and singing valentines.

With circus as its theme, the American Legion Hall was gaily decorated for the Co-ed Dance, when the feminine half of Saintland escorted male dates to one of the biggest dances of the year.

ARIEL EDITORS

To a great extent, the success of this yearbook is due to the able leadership of the Ariel editors. Don Honer earned the title of Editor-in-Chief by his capable supervision of publication and long hours of checking details. He and Pat Giliuson, as art editors, headed the Art Staff in planning the Ariel layout, posing pictures, and arranging each page of the book.

Gladys Tipton, literary editor, had the task of carefully working out the schedule for copy deadlines, giving assignments, and checking all printed material for the Ariel.

Joan Bell, business editor led her staff in the all-important job of presales and in delivering the finished book to the students.

Led by Gladys Tipton, the Ariel Literary Staff, composed of former staff members, students with experience from other schools, and complete novices, combined their talents and efforts and began the task of editing the yearbook early in the school year.

Assignments for writing and editing copy and taking names for group pictures were given out and deadlines were promptly met. Then the final deadline for the Ariel came, and with a flurry of last minute check-ups and changes the book was left in the hands of the printers.

The Business Staff, under the able leadership of Joan Bell, worked diligently from the beginning of the school year, up until the last week of school, seeing that all annuals were distributed on time.

Capably guided by co-editors Pat Giliuson and Don Honer, this year's Ariel Art and Photography Staffs have carried on their duties with a zeal hard to match. A cover design contest was held in all the Art classes to foster interest in the Ariel. Choices were narrowed down, until eventually a design was chosen.

The combined staffs decided what should be in the Ariel, what technique to use, how many cartoons, serious drawings, how each page should be arranged, and the order of the pages. The master dummy was then made and, finally, all pictures and other material were pasted into the final dummy.

After the book was in the hands of the lithographer, the four staffs joined in the Ariel party in celebration of a job well done.

Nell Fay

Patiently counseling their respective staffs, the Ariel advisers spent countless hours supervising the production of the 1947 annual.

Guiding the Art and Photography staffs, Mrs. Nell Fay was responsible for the artistic layout of this year's book.

Miss Mildred Watson efficiently advised her literary staff in the writing of all prose work.

Mr. William T. Elliott competently led his Business Staff in conducting a successful Ariel sale, arranging the schedule for individual and group pictures, and distributing the finished yearbook.

One of the busiest spots in Santa Ana High School is the print shop, under the direction of Mr. Willard E. Francis, assisted by Arthur R. Hull, pressman, and Mrs. Christine Givens, shop secretary.

The principal job of the shop is the printing of the high school Generator and the junior college El Don, which have come out more frequently than ever this year. In addition, the print shop has produced the daily bulletins, office forms, junior high school papers, football and play programs, and all other printing for Santa Ana city schools.

A new column, "Letters to the Editors," was added to the paper this year and met with approval from the students. This year's edition, dedicated to former adviser Miss Lota Blythe, carried not only the prose and poetry creations of the class, but also a new cover and interior illustrations designed by Melvin Kaiser and Pat Gilluson.

To finance the project, the class sold doughnuts on Wednesdays under the chairmanship of Harry Chan. Surplus funds were used to purchase technical books for the class library.

BAND

Stepping rhythmically across the field in time to their own lively music and led by four prancing and very small majorettes came the Santa Ana High School Band, making all of us who heard it proud to call it, "our band." Directed by Douglas Lamont, the band was very prominent this year in supplying appropriate music for all types of assemblies and school affairs, in creating the necessary spirit by playing colorful music as a background for the songs and yells at all the football and basketball games.

The majorettes, Pat Swint, Evelyn Marrs, Sue Howard and Nancy Learned, were prompt in accompanying the band to all the football games. They helped to create the necessary liveliness and color with their pretty red and white costumes, bobbing hats, prancing boots, and eye-catching routines, punctuated by the twirling of their silver batons. It is no wonder that the band and majorettes won first prize in the Santa Ana Frolic Parade on New Year's Eve.

Helping to bring indispensable enthusiasm to the games were the vivacious and pretty song leaders and handsome yell leaders. Patti Sullivan and Don Crossley acted as chiefs, Betty Kiesler and Janet Blakely, Bobby Welch and Dick Briggs assisted, and sophomores Doris Milbrat and Bill Wallace were in there punching as substitutes. In their attractive red and white uniforms, these girls and boys were on hand for every game, marching down the field with the band, leading the school song and receiving much admiration, response and applause from the audience for their clever routines and yells. Their pep and vigor inspired not only the high school gang, but also the teachers and grown-ups who attended.

ORCHESTRA

One of the most active organizations in high school is the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Douglas Lamont. The orchestra has had a very busy and enjoyable year playing for regular assemblies, the mid-year play, the senior class play, and graduation. Outside engagements included: P.T.A., two broadcasts over KVOE, the Southern California Band and Orchestra Festival at Long Beach, and the Orange County Music Festival at Long Beach, and the Orange County Music Festival at Fullerton.

There have been numerous student activities within the orchestra itself. There have been parties, the editing of a paper, The Band and Orchestra Notes, the composing of musical numbers by individual students, and student conducting. The orchestra has brought fame to itself and to the school this past year.

Although considerably smaller than the orchestra, the String Ensemble has been just as active in community affairs. This group of young musicians, also under the direction of Mr. Lamont, has been accepted by the public with great enthusiasm. They have played for the Founders Day Program, the P.T.A., and the service clubs. At Open House, which was their most outstanding engagement, they played chamber music by candlelight. This group has been a credit to Santa Ana High School and to the community.

INTEREST CLUBS

This year, as always, the organizations of our school were busy initiating ideas and activities. They sponsored drives for worthy causes, and for improved citizenship in our school, and on the lighter side they held dances and parties.

The clubs fall into three groups—the honorary clubs, the "Y" sponsored organizations, and the interest clubs. The members of the honorary societies are selected upon the basis of some scholastic or school service. There are several "Y" clubs for girls and boys. The interest clubs are organized for the purpose of furthering knowledge and activity in a certain field.

The new boy's and girl's honorary clubs, using the names Coterien and Coterienne respectively, started their first year off by actively participating in many school functions. Under the guidance of Mr. Guy Harvey and Mrs. Mirrle Bouchey, the organizations succeeded in making the Harvest Ball the greatest success in its history. They also sponsored Cleanup Week, and the Spring Sports Banquet; and they presented the annual awards to the most outstanding senior boy and girl. Members of the club were those who held student body, club, or class offices.

The Honor Society and Honor Roll served as a means of giving recognition to those students of exceptional scholastic ability. Although not as many activities were planned as in former years, both groups reported an all time high in memberships. The annual ditch day, a reward for hard study, was held in April with all members taking part. Advisers were Mrs. Jeanne Anne Graves and Miss Helen Kirkland.

One of the most active clubs in Santa Ana High School was the Sophomore Y. Membership was open to all sophomore girls. The SoY's furnished books and magazines to the Community Hospital, holding a very successful drive for these patients in December. The girls had many parties and suppers and a "harvest time" hayride. The So-Y's worked for the welfare of the school and community. They were advised by Miss Maxine Knight and Mrs. Carolyn Cocking.

The older Y groups, composed of junior and senior girls, known as the Tri-Y, was advised jointly by Mrs. Edith Cook and Mrs. Carolyn Cocking. The main event sponsored by the Tri-Y was the annual Penny Carnival which was held during the second semester, with the Hi-Y as co-sponsor. The money went to the Asilomar Summer Conference. Two members of the Tri-Y attended this conference last June and several members attended the annual Midwinter Conference at the Fullerton Junior College on February 3. At the beginning of the school year the girls sold over 600 "Fighting Saint" pencils. Their Christmas project was to send gift boxes to the Neighborhood House in Calexico.

Having as their goal "Christian Living in a Christian Community," the school sponsored Hi-Y clubs gave interested boys a varied extra-curricular athletic and social life. The Tuxis, Commodore, Etruscan, and Spartan clubs all presented to their members a full calendar of events. With such activities as a Hi-Y basketball league, parties, trips to the mountains, excursions to Los Angeles to see football games, and a Father and Son Banquet which was participated in by all of the groups, every Hi-Y member had a year he will long remember.

The Red Cross, under the guidance of Miss Helen Shipley, played an integral part in the life of the school. This group of active girls served as mediators between Santa Ana High School and the National Red Cross, giving their time and services to this worthwhile organization.

With Mr. Milton V. Newcomer as adviser, the Commerce Club participated in several interesting and instructive activities. Early in the year they sponsored an all-commerce assembly. Later they planned a trip through the Orange County Title Company, and also one to Los Angeles, climaxing their active year with one of the largest beach parties in the history of our school.

The Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by the Home Economics classes, was organized for those girls interested in becoming homemakers. The activities they carried out, aside from being entertaining, were helpful to the members in adding to their knowledge of the art of homemaking.

Under the able direction of Mr. Thomas Trawick, the Alchemist's Club enjoyed a busy and instructive year. Their early activities included a trip to the steel mill at Fontana and to the railroad yards at San Bernardino. Their later trips were to the desert and to the naval air station.

The Junior Toastmasters, a new organization in school, was ably led by Mr. Walter Egger and Presidents Bob Fox and Gordon Pusser. Furthering an interest in the art of speech, dinner meetings were held often with several speakers appointed for each meeting.

The Photography Club, organized so that the students particularly interested in photography might further their knowledge and interests, was led by Mrs. Nell Fay. At the beginning of the year they made a tour of inspection through the El Toro Marine Base photographic laboratories.

Organized for the purpose of better acquainting students with foreign countries, the three language clubs contribute their part to student body life. Auctions and slaves were but a beginning in the Latin Club year, their major activity being the Latin Club Banquet, a lavish triennial affair. Celebrating the Christmas season with La Navidad, the Spanish Club revived the festive holiday custom revolving around the candy filled pinata. French Club activities, beginning with a gay Halloween party, reached their climax when the club took a trip to Los Angeles, enjoying a French movie and dinner.

The Drama department, ably advised by Mr. F. Wayne Flinn, has added much enjoyment to the school life of Santa Ana High School. With presentations such as the annual mid-winter play and Senior Class play, as well as assembly programs, the department has won acclaim for itself and the school it represents.

The stage crew, tirelessly trained by Mr. Claude Bolton, is seldom seen, but without these boys our stage productions could not be the success which they are. The boys are back-stage for all assembly programs, as well as for dramatic performances. They are responsible for lighting effects and for the operation of the public address system and curtains. No program is presented in the auditorium unless at least one of the crew members is present.

The usherettes, composed of hard-working junior and senior girls, and led by capable head usherette, Pat Penny, contributed a great service to Santa Ana High School. Much of their free time was devoted to ushering at evening events conducted in the high school auditorium and assisting, when needed, at school assemblies.

The staff of students who serve as office monitors is the "backbone" of the office. They assist Mrs. Virginia Fielding, attendance supervisor, in delivering call slips, absence reports and daily bulletins, collecting absence slips, and expediting registration.

Some of the most loyal Saints here in Santa Ana High School are not enrolled as students. These Saints come to school early in the morning, in order that they may have our buildings and grounds in order by the time we arrive. They come to school not only in winter, but also in summer. They are loyal in many ways.

Their varied duties range from picking up waste papers and keeping the halls in order, to polishing desks and regulating the heat in classrooms.

Heading this group of hard working men is Mr. Blackburn.

Credit for the outstanding beauty of the campus belongs to the gardeners who work throughout the year to provide a wealth of seasonal flowers.

COACHES

Santa Ana is justly proud of the high school coaching staff. Not only do our school sports offer a great deal of interest and pleasure to the sport fans of Santa Ana, but they enhance the school life of the students as well. These sports, along with other extra curricular activities, are the basis of all school spirit. Without a good coaching staff this important phase of school life would be lost. For that reason Coaches are a vital part of the school.

Probably best known is the football coach, "Big Bill" Cole. Once a prominent Santa Ana High School football player himself, he is very popular with both the players and the students. As a sideline he worked with the bee-five basketball squad this year and did a fine job.

John Wilson

Too SKINNY TO BE COACH

Coach "Bus" McKnight spearheaded the varsity basketball team on to victory after victory this year. He also worked in collaboration with Coach Cole as line coach for the varsity football team. We can expect much from "Bus" in the future after his fine performance in this, his first year at Santa Ana.

Coaching our Bee football team this year was Don Warhurst. Formerly a captain and center of one of our football teams, Don is well suited to this job. He also coached the tennis team and made an excellent showing.

Another welcome addition to our coaching staff is John Wilson, who took over our 1947 swimming team. He also found time to assist Don Warhurst with the Bee team.

Spurring the trackmen along was Reece "Pinky" Greene, known as one of the best track coaches in this part of the country. He has produced many fine track teams for Santa Ana High School.

Last, but not least, is Bill Foote, top man in Santa Ana High School baseball circles. Bill was also coach of the Junior varsity football squad this year.

The Saints, with a wealth of experienced lettermen on the squad, were given the unwanted role of favorites; but when the season ended, they were in third place after dropping two one-point heartbreakers to Anaheim and Huntington Beach.

After defeating the combined forces of Laguna Beach and Brea-Olinda, 26-7, in a six quarter practice game, the Saints annexed a 32-12 win from the Covina Colts and rolled over the hapless Riverside Bears by a 30-12 count.

The Redmen opened their league schedule by easily smashing the Orange Panthers 27-6 and then defeated their age old grid rivals, the Fullerton Indians, 13-6, by marching 70 yards in the last few minutes of the final quarter. A surprising Newport squad fought the Saints to a 13-13 deadlock, but Coach Cole's men avenged the tie by drubbing a weak Downey eleven, 19-0.

It was Anaheim that finally halted the onrushing Saint grid machine. The Colonists scored once in the first half, then fought off several scoring threats to come out on the long end of a 7-6 count. It was the same story against Huntington Beach. The Saints outclassed the Oilers in every department, but when the chips were down, the beach city boys threw up a stone wall defense.

However, even in defeat the Saints were cheered by the news that both Johnny Fouch and Bill Bolton had been selected on the all C.I.F. squad. Fouch, only a Junior, was a threat on both the ground and in the air, while Bolton was outstanding on the line.

BEE FOOTBALL

If league championships were given for fight and sportsmanship, the Bees would have been awarded the cup without question. However, as it was, the little Saints, coached by Don Warhurst, finished in fourth spot after an up and down season. The title race this year was complicated by the fact that there was a three way tie for first place between Anaheim, Huntington Beach, and Fullerton.

The Bees opened the season with a 19-6 victory over the Laguna Beach lightweights and then dropped their initial league contest to Fullerton, 26-0. The little Saints next conquered Newport Harbor, 20-18, and Downey, 19-0, before being humbled by Anaheim, 6-0, and Huntington Beach, 27-0.

Although the Bees were much smaller than average this year, Coach Warhurst has tabbed several promising prospects for a better season next year.

BASKETBALL

The varsity cagers of '47, with Lester "Bus" McKnight serving in the capacity of head coach for the first time, brought supreme honor and glory, in the form of the Sunset League Cage championship, to Santa Ana High School.

With co-captains Doug Wagner and Bob Leonard leading the way, the short pantied varsity played inspired ball the season long and came through with an undefeated Sunset League schedule, featured by hair-raising battles with the Colonists of Anaheim.

After the Sunset title came the opportunity to engage in the Beverly Hills State Invitational Cage championships and the C.I.F. finals at Whittier, where the Saints were nosed out by narrow margins.

To a damn swell guy.

SWIMMING

Under the able tutoring of Coach John Wilson, the Saint "tankmen" brought glory and honor to Santa Ana High. With Co-captains Lloyd Thomas, diving and breast-stroke champ, and Rolf Engen, swimming free style, at the helm, this year's swimming team placed in various meets with pleasing results.

The team commenced training at the beginning of the second semester by taking various exercises and laps to strengthen their wind.

The '47 varsity "tankmen" offered spirited competition to all foes. To work into condition the team engaged in a series of inter team water polo contests.

The Bees furnished Coach John Wilson with a bevy of bright prospects for the coming year's swimming team.

Both Varsity and Bees experienced a fruitful and exciting season of swimming, and the coach was greatly pleased with the performances of his teams.

TRACK

Following in the footsteps of the two past Sunset championship squads, this year's mighty aggregation of fleet runners, powerful hurdlers, and skilled field men, all competently coached by head track mentor Reece Greene, rose to new heights and again finished as one of the powerhouses of the circuit.

Strong in distances and sprints, the red-and-white thin-clads thundered through their strenuous schedule with little difficulty. While deep with talent in every position, the Saint spikesters had to fight hard against star-laden Newport and Huntington Beach squads.

Five sprinters, Don Bass, David Porter, Marvin White, Paul Smith, and Gene Smith, led the impressive array of speedsters. The distances were as well stacked, with Bob Houghland, Ed Van Deusen, Tony De La Riva, and Gordon Pusser. In the hurdles, lanky Noel Palm, Harold Sargent, and Don Sutton dominated. High jumpers Vernon Evans and Tony Snow; shot putters, Ed Tuback and Bob Finnegan; broad jumper Bill Eckles; pole vaulters LeRoy Watts, Chuck Baker, Bill Bebermeyer, and Richard Williams all contributed to the substantial total of points which the Santa Ana track men piled up against opposition.

BASEBALL

Delbert Schmidt

Baseball, one of the more promising sports of the year, was ably coached by Bill Foote. Coach Foote, not being hampered by having to coach basketball, devoted all his time, from the beginning of the second semester, to training his varsity nine. His enthusiastic crop, including many returning varsity men, looked bright from the start, as it made its bid for the Sunset League championship.

TENNIS

Coach Don Warhurst had material for a league championship when he took over the reins of the '47 edition of the Santa Ana tennis squad. With four out of five of the varsity singles men and one of two doubles combines returning from last year's championship squad, the Saints seemed a cinch to repeat.

The Redmen were led by such ace netters as Bud and Bob Johnson, whose brilliant teamwork in the doubles division proved the undoing of many foes, and "Powerful Pete" Crenshaw, whose diminutive stature deceived many opponents. Outstanding also was clever Jimmy Froeschle, who baffled foes with his twisting drives, and "Smilin' Bob" Cole, who breezed through league competition.

ADVISERS

Taking an active interest in the six team sports, basketball, hockey, volleyball, baseball, tennis, and swimming, many girls eagerly looked forward to the various playdays where they could compete with other schools. These playdays marked the end of each season, and after a season of hard practice the girls did very well, bringing home many victories. Playdays gave the girls a chance to meet and play with those from other schools, and their competition was not limited to interclass games. The volleyball playday, which was held at Santa Ana this year, was a great success. The Girls' Athletic Association sponsored it and sold refreshments after the games were played.

The G. A. A. is composed of girls taking team sports, and sophomores who have gone out for after school sports. In addition to sponsoring the volleyball playday, the G.A.A. turned out loyally for Color Day and sold red and white yarn dolls for the occasion. After the basketball game with Huntington Beach, the G. A. A. sponsored one of the most successful non-date dances of the year. Everyone turned out for the affair, making it a highlight in the year's activities of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Hope you are all sitting aside your really a swell guy and I don't forget Jack, when you break up with your girl I'll always be waiting!!!
